RQW
May 16, 1986

Session 9: Questions and Answers with 71

Summary: Communication is made with the entity. Some attempt is made to describe the illusion of matter. That what we experience with our senses is not the reality of nature. What we experience is a metaphor. If we were are of the flowing energies in our midst we would understand that we are never alone or lost. The attraction to the physical plane is for energies to intermingle with each other in terms of families, friends and so on.

Report by Daniel Erickson